Court Case #: 2009 CF 288

Lawrence Lee, of the Jefferson County Sheriff's Office, being first duly sworn on oath, says that:

Count 1: 1ST-DEGREE MURDER

The above-named defendant on or between 8/09/80 and 10/19/80, in the Town of Ixonia, Jefferson County, Wisconsin, did cause the death of another human being to wit: Kelly J. Drew, with intent to kill that person, contrary to sec. 940.01(1) Wis. Stats., a Class A Felony, and upon conviction shall be sentenced to imprisonment for life.

Count 2: 1ST-DEGREE MURDER

The above-named defendant on or between 8/09/80 and 10/19/80, in the Town of Ixonia, Jefferson County, Wisconsin, did cause the death of another human being to wit: Timothy J. Hack, with intent to kill that person, contrary to sec. 940.01(1) Wis. Stats., a Class A Felony, and upon conviction shall be sentenced to imprisonment for life.

FACTS: Your complainant, Lawrence Lee, of the Jefferson County Sheriff's Office bases this complaint upon the reports and records of said department which your complainant has relied on in the past and found to be truthful and accurate. Therefore your complainant is informed and believes:

Complainant states that at approximately 11:00 a.m. on Sunday, August 10, 1980 the Jefferson County Sheriff's Office was contacted by citizen complainant David Hack in reference to a missing person complaint. Mr. Hack reported that his son Timothy Hack, and Timothy's girlfriend Kelly Drew, were missing. Mr. Hack provided the following information: that on Saturday, August 9, 1980 he last saw Timothy and Kelly around 10:15 p.m. when they were headed to the Concord House for a wedding reception. Timothy and Kelly had planned to attend the wedding reception and then meet up with friends in Fort Atkinson around 11:30 p.m. According to these friends, Timothy and Kelly never showed up. Mr. Hack spoke with a friend who attended the wedding and learned that Timothy and Kelly arrived at the wedding reception and were last seen walking out of the Concord House at approximately 11:00 p.m. Mr. Hack reported that the couple had taken Timothy's car to the reception and that he had located Timothy's car still parked at the Concord House near the entrance going into the adjoining campgrounds. Mr. Hack expressed concern because Timothy and Kelly both had a habit of calling home if they were going to be late or had problems and that no one had heard from either of them, leading Mr. Hack to believe that something must have happened to the couple. Mr. Hack told investigators that his son was wearing brown pants, a brown shirt, suede shoes and a brown belt. Kelly was wearing yellow slacks, a yellow plaid blouse and was carrying a beige macramé purse.

Complainant states that on August 15, 1980 investigators received information that a pair of women's yellow pants, a beige bra and several other items had been located alongside the roadway approximately 3 miles from the Concord House. Examination of the clothing revealed the yellow pants and bra had been cut in a jagged pattern with a sharp object. The pants were cut in a jagged line extending from the ankle through the groin area and down the other pant leg to the ankle. The bra was cut in the center area between the breasts and cut through each shoulder strap. On the same date, investigators learned that a pair of women's beige bikini underpants had been found along the roadway approximately 4.5 miles from the Concord House. Examination of the underpants revealed that the underpants had been cut with a sharp object on each side of the hip bone region. Investigators secured these items and later transported the items to the Wisconsin State Crime Lab for evidentiary testing. Complainant states the yellow pants were identified as the pants Kelly Drew was last seen wearing on August 9, 1980.

Complainant states that on October 19, 1980, hunters reported the discovery of a human body in a wooded area in the Town of Ixonia, Jefferson County, Wisconsin, approximately 8 miles from the Concord House. An exhaustive search of this area the following day turned up a second human body in the same area. Dental records positively identified the bodies as those of Timothy Hack and Kelly Drew. Autopsies were performed on both bodies with the forensic examiner listing the manner of death for Timothy Hack and Kelly Drew as homicide. Based on the amount of decomposition and the condition of the bodies, the forensic medical examiner concluded the probable time of death was in August of 1980. The examination of Kelly Drew revealed ligature marks on her ankles and wrists and strangulation was listed as the probable cause of death. The examination of Timothy Hack revealed a penetrating wound through the left backside of his shirt as well as right rib damage consistent with a knife wound.

Complainant states that on June 9, 2009, investigators made contact with Edward Wayne Edwards, the above-named defendant, at his residence in Louisville, Kentucky, to question him about the deaths of Timothy Hack and Kelly Drew. The defendant remembered living at the campgrounds adjacent to the Concord House in July of 1980. The defendant denied recognizing the names Timothy Hack or Kelly Drew or that anyone had gone missing from the Concord House during the time he lived in the area. Upon being reminded by investigators, the defendant recalled having been interviewed by detectives in connection with the disappearance of Timothy Hack and Kelly Drew near the time of the murders. When the couple was described to the defendant, he said he may have seen them or maybe they had seen him, as he had a couple beers at the bar at the dance hall.

Over the years, the ongoing investigation into the murders of Kelly Drew and Timothy Hack revealed that the defendant had worked as a handyman at the Concord House and adjacent Concord Center Campgrounds at the time of the murders and had been present at the Concord House on August 9, 1980. The defendant and his family had moved to Wisconsin in early July 1980 and initially lived at the campgrounds. After leaving the campgrounds, the defendant moved to a residence located halfway between the Concord House and the location where the bodies of Kelly Drew and Timothy Hack were discovered. Citizen witnesses recalled the defendant had a bloody nose during the weekend Timothy Hack and Kelly Drew disappeared. At the time, the defendant told others he injured his nose while deer hunting. During the June 9, 2009 interview, the defendant told investigators that he had never been deer hunting and that the only time in which he had gone hunting was for elk in Colorado.

In September 1980, shortly after contact by law enforcement in connection with the investigation into the disappearance of Timothy Hack and Kelly Drew, the defendant fled the state with his family. The defendant failed to leave any contact information or a forwarding address.

Complainant states that Kelly Drew's seized clothing items had been submitted to the Wisconsin State Crime Lab for evidentiary testing near the time of the murders. Analysis revealed the presence of DNA material in the form of semen on Kelly Drew's pants. Subsequent testing eliminated Timothy Hack as a possible contributor of the semen located on the pants. Complainant states that on July 8, 2009 the Wisconsin State Crime Lab received and analyzed a DNA sample provided by the defendant Edward Wayne Edwards. The defendant's DNA sample was compared against the DNA sample found on Kelly Drew's pants and lab analysis determined the defendant to be a possible contributor of the seminal fluid found on Ms. Drew's pants. According to the State Crime Laboratory report, the probability of randomly selecting an individual that could have contributed to this mixture profile is approximately one in 4 million.
